International Feldenkrais Teacher Training Chiemsee 9

In a wonderful impressive landscape Artem International Feldenkrais Trainings GmbH offers you an in depth Feldenkrais Teacher Training Program with international accreditation. We support your somatic learning process where you discover your personal resources and transfer them into every day life.

Jerry Karzen/Hawaii, the educational director of the program, is one of the most experienced senior trainers. He assisted and accompanied Dr. Moshe Feldenkrais in the development and application of his method and has more than 35 years of experience.

Dr. Moshe Feldenkrais (1904 - 1984)

combined his expertise in physics, engineering, martial arts as well as his knowledge in the fields of biomechanics, neurology, physiology and psychology with rigorous observation of how human behavior and movement patterns relate to our innate capacity to learn and act easily and efficiently. The practical result is the Feldenkrais Method, a unique system of human growth and resources for action.

The Feldenkrais Method

Learning is what we do, if we don't know what to do. (Guy Claxton, Wise up)
We have an innate capacity to learn. As children we curiously find out so many things, completely absorbed in an activity, with all senses. In the beginning we don't know much, everything is new. Again and again we attentively try new possibilities and: learn! And also have fun!

As adults we seem to know everything already. But the state of not-knowing is a precious moment for learning. Movement is the means. Most people, at first, find surprising the idea that they can learn to act more efficient and comfortably and at the same time increase their flexibility. And this simply by paying attention to the entire process involved in performing any given movement and exploring the sensations they experience while doing so.

Awareness and movement as the basis of thinking and knowledge are a precondition for every original learning process. In movement we experience knowledge and pass it on, in movement theoretical knowledge and practical know how connect into a learning culture in motion.

During the training you rediscover your own innate, childlike curiosity and improve your capacity to learn by involving every aspect of yourself.

The Feldenkrais practitioner teacher/ Training is an investment into the fullness of your own know how and knowledge. Practical and theoretical knowledge about our own learning ability and our potential to act in the world are equally part of cultural basics like reading and writing. Many have already grasped that.

The Curriculum

I hear and I forget
I see and I remember
I do and I understand

The Training Program covers the two basic aspects of the Feldenkrais-Method.

Awareness through Movement (ATM)

Moshe Feldenkrais developed more than 2000 basic ATM-lessons. Each student individually explores and experiences the enormous spectrum of human learning capacity through movement at his/her own pace in a group setting.

Sense, feel, perceive, compare, differentiate, directing awareness, move mentally, think, experiment: our possibilities for action newly expand.

In these ATM-lessons Moshe Feldenkrais put learning principals into action like: differentiation, restriction, variation, options. Lessons include developmental patterns as manifested in babies and infants, as well as movements involved in sports, dance and the martial arts: the full potential of learning through movement.

Functional Integration (FI)

This gentle, non-invasive hands-on exploration between practitioner and student offers an enormous potential for growth. Each student gets 12 individual FI's from the staff and as a minimum 1 trainer lesson during the program, either before or after class or sometimes during class lessons.

The Curriculum includes

- 'do and understand': expanding the own capacity to learn by intensive experience of ATM and FI
- Developing self-perception and the perception of others
- Refining sensory perception, movement perception and the perception of emotions
- Developing awareness for motor and sensory phenomena and their complex configurations in oneself and related to others
- Improving significantly the own movement abilities by reducing effort and creating options in the learning process.
- Explore mutual connections between ATM and FI and integrate this knowledge into the own teaching of ATM and FI
- Developing and experiencing a rich repertoire and a variety of movement variations
- Supervised teaching of ATM and FI including supporting feedback
- Developing and increasing the understanding of ' and 'somatic' learning
- Understanding the vast variety of human learning possibilities
- Understanding the dynamics of learning and the potential of the learning process and the Feldenkrais learning theory
- Becoming aware of the intention within every action
- Understanding developmental movements and the basic functions of learning
- Understanding that independent thinking and the meaning and the function of choices are a necessary prerequisite for continuous learning
- Learning how to integrate thinking and acting more in a non-linear way and less in a 'cause and effect' way
- Experiencing and understanding what a function is and how the function is related to the individual in gravity and its environment
- Understanding self directed learning as a prerequisite for individual and social capacity to act

Discussions of the theoretical background of the Feldenkrais work, videotaped ATM and FI-lessons and lectures by Moshe Feldenkrais are equally integrated in the training as functional anatomy, physiology, kinesiology, neurophysiology and ethics. Communication skills for the interview with clients and business tips for building a practice are offered additionally.

Diploma and Accreditation

Graduates of the Chiemsee Feldenkrais Programs are qualified to become teachers of the Feldenkrais-Method. Participation does not automatically guarantee graduation. Between the second and third year of the training students can get permission to teach ATM classes to the public, by mentioning their student status. The ATM teaching permission is part of the individual learning process and only stays valid after completing the full four years of the training program. After the 4 year program graduates may give FI-lessons.

The training is accredited by the German Accreditation Board (DTAB) and recognized worldwide by Feldenkrais Professional Associations who are members of the International Feldenkrais Federation (IFF).

Graduates are eligible to become members of a national guild or association and to use their service marks.

Language

The Training is conducted in English. German and English speaking assistants and/or experienced practitioners will accompany you throughout the whole of the training. Summarized or sometimes simultaneous translation into German is offered at request.

FAQ

Schedule, costs, application?

You find all the important basic information about the training program like 'First Steps introductory days', venue, schedule, tuition, curriculum, language, application here and also on our websites www.feldenkrais-training-program.com & www.artem-feldenkrais.de.

Tuition: 108 € per training day. 4320,00 € per training year (40 days).

Some workscholarships are available.

Please contact us if you need more information.

Can everybody take a training?

In general – yes. You should of course have had sufficient experience with the Feldenkrais-Method (ATM classes and FI lessons), are learning or have learned a profession, and feel physically, mentally and emotionally in a condition to take a professional training of 5-6hrs per day. We figure that physical handicaps are a good precondition: handicaps and mistakes are treasures. This program is offered as a practitioners training program. It is your choice, if you will integrate this knowledge into your original profession or if you become a Feldenkrais practitioner or if you use the Method for self-experience .

How is the training structured?

Year one and two focus more on somatic learning and selfexperience in Feldenkrais® AWARENESS THROUGH MOVEMENT (ATM). Moshe Feldenkrais has developed a whole variety of lessons (ca. 2000) for somatic learning.

A major part of these lessons will be offered by the trainer/assistant trainer and sometimes on videotape from the Amherst-Training by Dr. Feldenkrais himself. These lessons are the basis for teaching the method to others.

From the very beginning FELDENKRAIS® FUNCTIONAL INTEGRATION (FI) will be part of the instructions, so you can experience and learn how both parts of the method are connected with each other.

In year three and four the training will focus more on FUNCTIONAL INTEGRATION (FI) while AWARENESS THROUGH MOVEMENT (ATM) stays an integral part of the teaching.

How is a training day structured?

In general the training is 5 hours a day , additional FI (Functional Integration individual) lessons could be observed after class, before, after or sometimes during these main teaching hours and during lunchbreak. Training-FI's will be given, where students can watch. Instructions include ATM's, FI, talks, video tapes (Amherst and FI's) and are designed along the demands and the needs of the students.

In the beginning of each training segment the daily schedule will be fixed by the trainer. We mostly start at 9:15 a.m. and end in the afternoon depending on the length of the noon break at 16:15. The 1st day of each training week starts at 12:15 and ends at 17:15. The last day of each training week goes from 09:15 until 12:45.

Who is teaching?

The educational director Jerry Karzen, will teach up to 60 % of the training. To experience a whole range of personalities and styles the other training segments will be taught by guest trainers (4-5). The trainer will be assisted by an assistant trainer if required and experienced practitioners. Training FI's will be given by trainers , assistant trainers and members of the staff. Throughout the whole of the training the staff supports the learning progress of the participants. If you want or need a personal talk you can contact members of the staff. You can also contact them between training segments.

Which training is the best for me?

A training is of course more demanding than a workshop. 5 hours of somatic learning daily are a challenge, which makes it even more important that you value the learning environment and most of all, the educational director and the staff, their learning style, and how they design the training. For a good decision in this sense , we invite you as a guest in one of our current trainings. Please contact us for the dates, or look on our website.

Theory?

Theoretical backgrounds, connections, concepts and questions are an integral part of the instructions. Students are expected to take own initiatives (e.g. form workgroups, pursue questions etc.) and study literature in between segments.

To provide an in depth training the educational director wants to dedicate a maximum of the limited time (160 days) to somatic learning.

Additional programs e.g. anatomy, neurology, communication skills, building up a practise, will be either integrated in the training or additionally offered for those who are interested.

Feldenkrais
Training Program

When am I allowed to work with the Feldenkrais-Method?

If you have successfully completed the first two years you can obtain the interim ATM-permission within the third year of the training. You can then teach Awareness through movement (ATM) as a part of your training and you need to mention your student status. If you have chosen to be a member of the Feldenkrais-Verband Deutschland e.V. you will be registered as a student member in the directory of the German Association.

After having successfully completed the fourth year of the training students get a certificate and are allowed to teach FELDENKRAIS Functional Integration (FI) and AWARENESS THROUGH MOVEMENT(ATM). You are allowed to become a member of a national Feldenkrais guild or association and to use their registered marks. As a full member of the Feldenkrais-Verband Deutschland e.V. you are allowed to use the name FELDENKRAIS® Practitioner FVD and to renew your licence.

Graduates from other countries could become members in their national association. Every graduate should know, that in certain states or countries professional practice may be subject to licensing laws, limiting their professional practice unless the graduate has a certain license.

Training Schedule

Exams?

Not in the traditional sense. A training offered by a free private school provides the learning space that allows somatic learning in the true sense of Feldenkrais Method without being stressed by the usual exams. The training process itself offers sufficient possibilities to trainers, assistant trainers and experienced practitioners to perceive and validate the learning progress of each student. (cumulative process) Every day of the training is part of the learning progress. At the end of year two there will be a „practicum“ giving students the possibility to teach two ATM-sequences under supervision and with supporting feedback. In the end of year four students will give two FI's under supervision and with supporting feedback.

And if I have to miss some days or even a segment?

You may miss 5 days per training year but not more 10 days during the whole of the training. If you miss more than the allowed number of days, you make arrangements with the educational director to make up the missed time , either preferred in one of our training programs or in another training program on the same training level. (See your training contract for details) . Think about a seminar /travel insurance, in case you cannot attend a segment because of illness, etc. ,it provides you from additional costs.

Accommodation

And if I cannot continue or have to interrupt the training?

You can leave the training program any time giving notice within the time range you have agreed upon in your contract (6 months notice before a segment). As you have 7 years to complete the training (from your start date) you can continue the training later and complete it in one of our programs or another training program, which follows the international standards.

How to get there

And how are the payment modes?

If you did not choose otherwise, you pay for the respective segment 4 weeks in advance at a due date (see contract). If you cannot pay in time you pay a late charge (see contract). You can contact Artem any time to find a mode of payment that fits for you. (installments, yearly or you pay the total sum for the 4 year program).

Some countries and companies offer financial support for employees – please look for information in your country.

Application

To take the training I need a document for my company/institution

Just let us know what kind of document you need and we send it to you immediately.

Accommodation?

You make arrangements for your accommodation yourself. Various apartments and rooms are offered in Gstadt (north shore of the lake – 10 minutes by boat), Gollenshausen, Breitbrunn and Prien (20 min. by boat). Most training participants stay on the mainland and in or near Gstadt and share apartments. The accommodations on Fraueninsel are more exclusive and limited as it is a small island. The Benedictine abbey on Fraueninsel offers doublerooms for 27€ per night and person (2017). For online booking please see: www.gstadt-am-chiemsee.de. Please contact Artem to get more information about accommodations on the island.

Kids

Please contact us, if you bring your kids and need information. Babies and kids are welcome to visit the training if they can play quietly or sleep. Depending on what is taught, older kids can also participate in the training.

Teaching material and tools – Do I need to bring them?

No – have a carefree travel to Fraueninsel, just bring your comfortable cloth, shoes or warm socks for the hall and if you like, your own blanket or mat. ARTEM offers Feldenkrais tables, rollers and also mats and blankets at the place. You have the possibility to store your personal equipment over the 4 years in the hall.

Boat tickets

As a student of the ARTEM International Feldenkrais Trainings, you will receive a student boat ticket, which will allow you to use the ferry boat with a 35% reduction (2017). Just show your ARTEM ticket at the caisse in Gstadt or Prien or on the boat and you will get your reduced ticket during the training segments.

And how do I learn and remember the contents of the segments?

Learning by doing - somatic learning is a non linear learning process (e.g. learn to ride a bicycle). Nevertheless we suggest to discuss with your classmates after class what we did during the day, or collect, write, draw or make fotos in your learning group in order to reflect and remind the themes. Make your teaching experience at home with friends or class mates between the segments.

MP3 recordings of the ATM lessons and talks will be given to every student at the end of each segment only for your own learning process and reflection at home.
